Colorado Homeschoolers & Unschoolers Meetup Site (CHUMS)

CHUMS is an inclusive group welcoming all families providing a home-based education for their children in the greater Colorado Springs area. Our primary objective is to provide social connections for homeschooling children and parents (we have several get-togethers each week), but we also schedule educational events from time to time.

Colorado Springs Unschoolers

A group for those who live in Colorado Springs, or areas near to Colorado Springs, who Unschool their children. We can discuss anything related to homeschooling/unschooling, we can talk about meeting one another and getting together once in awhile, we can talk about how we unschool, and we can also encourage one another. This can be a place where we can share the joy of child led learning!

High Country Home Educators

The home schooling families of New Life Church offer a three-part program. High Country is first of all a support group. Secondly, they operate an independent school, High Country Christian Academy. Also, High Country, in conjunction with the Small Group Ministries of New Life Church, offers a variety of enrichment classes geared toward supplementing your home schooling program. The three divisions of High Country Home Educators are optional services and each division must be joined separately. You need only join the division(s) that suit your family needs.

Military Christian Homeschoolers

This is a group for Christian Homeschoolers in the military stationed in Colorado (for get togethers). Of course, any are welcome for discussions, postings, and idea sharing. We range from Preschool age and up. At the current moment our primary focus is on homeschooling our preschoolers, because I have preschoolers. We are always looking for those who have older children and can give advice. ADD & ADHD homeschoolers are also welcome.
